

ABO NOCE Basic Opticianry Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. Presbyopia is best defined as:

- A) Age-related loss of accommodative amplitude due to decreased crystalline lens elasticity
- B) Progressive myopia occurring after age 40
- C) Increased IOP occurring with aging
- D) Age-related macular degeneration

2. ANSI Z87.1 is the standard for:

- A) Occupational and educational personal eye and face protection devices
- B) Prescription ophthalmic lenses for dress eyewear
- C) Contact lens care products
- D) Sunglasses and fashion eyewear

3. Keratoconus is characterized by:

- A) Progressive corneal thinning and ectasia causing an irregular cone-shaped cornea with high myopia and irregular astigmatism
- B) A bilateral opacity of the crystalline lens causing gradual vision loss
- C) Elevated intraocular pressure causing optic nerve damage
- D) Macular degeneration affecting central vision

4. What is the base curve of a lens?

- A) The reference curve from which other curves are measured
- B) The flattest curve on the front surface
- C) The curve of the back surface
- D) The curve that determines the optical center

Answers: 1-A 2-A 3-A 4-A

For More ABO NOCE Basic Opticianry Questions and Answers FREE, ABO NOCE Basic Opticianry Online Prep Training,
ABO NOCE Basic Opticianry Exam, ABO NOCE Basic Opticianry Study Guide, ABO NOCE Basic Opticianry Flashcards, ABO NOCE Basic Opticianry Quizzes visit:

ABO NOCE Basic Opticianry Practice Test