

PANCE Practice Test Questions and Answers

1. A congenital hip dislocation diagnosis is made.

- A) At 6 weeks of age
- B) At 6 months of age
- C) In utero
- D) At birth

2. Which lab pattern is most consistent with prerenal azotemia?

- A) BUN:Cr ratio >20:1 with urine sodium <20 mEq/L
- B) BUN:Cr ratio <10:1 with urine sodium >40 mEq/L
- C) Muddy brown casts with urine sodium >40 mEq/L
- D) WBC casts with low urine osmolality

3. What constitutes a risk factor for endometriosis development?

- A) Delayed childbearing
- B) Short periods
- C) Multiple pregnancies
- D) Lengthened menstrual cycles

4. Which one of the following is NOT a symptom of serious depression?

- A) Hypersomnia
- B) Fatigue
- C) Anhedonia
- D) Mania

Answers: 1-D 2-A 3-A 4-D

For More PANCE Questions and Answers FREE, PANCE Online Prep Training,
PANCE Exam, PANCE Study Guide, PANCE Flashcards, PANCE Quizzes visit:

PANCE Practice Test